The Mercedes-Benz Stadium in Georgia is raring to go today as the seconds tick down to tonight's Jake Paul vs Ben Askren live stream PPV. The full fight is eight rounds of celebrity-boxing as YouTuber Jake Paul faces ex-UFC fighter Ben Askren, preceded by performances by Snoop Dogg and Justin Bieber. The star-studded exhibition is a $50 pay-per-view affair in the USA, but it's less than half that in the UK! Make sure you know how to watch a cheap Jake Paul vs Ben Askren live stream from anywhere in the world. Jake Paul vs Ben Askren live stream. Date: Saturday 17th April 2021 Start time: 2am BST / 9pm ET. Main event: 4am BST / 11pm ET. Venue: Mercedes-Benz Stadium, Atlanta. UK stream: Fite.TV (£17 / $23.99) (opens in new tab). Watch anywhere: ExpressVPN (opens in new tab) US stream: Fite.TV (opens in new tab) ($49.99). Disney actor-turned-YouTuber Jake "The Problem Child" Paul has only had a couple of pro fights but he's favourite to beat Ben "Funky" Askren this weekend. Paul beat YouTuber AnEsonGib in January 2020, then knocked out ex-NBA player Nate Robinson when they clashed on the undercard of the Mike Tyson vs Roy Jones Jr. exhibition last November. "These MMA guys think because they throw punches they know how to box," Paul told reporters ahead of the showdown. "I don't even think he'll hit me. I haven't been hit one time in the face in my past two fights... that's my prediction." But former Olympic wrestler, retired UFC fighter, MMA star and Bellator welterweight champ Ben Askren believes Paul lacks experience and will "gas out". "TKO in round seven," Funky told reporters. "Because I don't have a huge amount of power. It'll take me some time to wear him down and make him hate his life." As you can tell, there's no love lost between the pair. Jake Paul vs Ben Askren will be a cruiserweight fight (under 200lbs) in front of a crowd of 100 specially-invited 'Golden Ticket' winners. To ramp up the razzmatazz, the four hour Triller Fight Club event will include musical performances from Snoop Dogg (who happens to co-own Triller Fight Club), Justin Bieber, Doja Cat, The Black Keys, Saweetie, Diplo, Major Lazer and the world premiere of hip-hop supergroup Mt. Westmore (Snoop Dogg, Ice Cube, Too Short and E-40). The eccentric undercard features a British millionaire nightclub owner, ex-boxing champ Steve Cunningham (once floored Mike Tyson), ex-UFC champ Frank Mir and promising Brooklyn-based Super Middleweight Junior Younan. The pay-per-view event will be streamed exclusively on Fite.TV (opens in new tab) tonight. It's much cheaper in some countries than in others, so make sure you know how to watch a Jake Paul vs Ben Askren live stream from anywhere. UK: Jake Paul vs Ben Askren live stream (Image credit: DirecTV / Triller Fight Club). There's no option to watch Jake Paul vs Ben Askren for free, but UK-based MMA fans can watch the big fight for just £17 ($23.99) via Fite.TV (opens in new tab). The price also includes free access to Jake Paul: PBLM Child - The Complete Documentary (worth $9.99). Going to be outside the UK this weekend? You'll need to use a VPN (opens in new tab) to access Fite.TV without being geo-blocked. We recommend ExpressVPN (opens in new tab) because it comes with a 30-day money-back guarantee and 24/7 customer support. The event features a ton of musical performances including the world premiere of hip hop supergroup Mt. Westmore (Snoop Dogg (opens in new tab), Ice Cube, Too Short and E-40). Surely that's worth the price of admissions alone? The undercard - which is well worth watching by the way - starts around midnight in the UK, with Jake Paul vs Ben Askren expected around 4am. The Fite.TV (opens in new tab) app is available from the Apple App Store, Google Play, Amazon Appstore, Roku TVs and players and Huawei App Gallery. How to watch Jake Paul vs Ben Askren abroad using a VPN. Even if you have subscribed to the relevant Jake Paul vs Ben Askren rights holders, you won't be able to use them when outside your own country. The service will know your location based on your IP address, and will automatically block your access. A Virtual Private Network (VPN) helps you get around this obstacle. A VPN creates a private connection between your device and the internet, such that the servers and services you're accessing aren't aware of what you're doing. All the information passing back and forth is entirely encrypted. There are many VPN providers out there, with some more reliable and safe than others. As a rule, we'd suggest a paid-for service such as ExpressVPN (opens in new tab) which offers a 100 per cent risk-free money back guarantee. If you're not happy with the service any time within the first 30-days, then you can cancel with no penalties at all. US: Jake Paul vs Ben Askren live stream (Image credit: Fite.TV). Fite.TV (opens in new tab) also has the rights to live stream Jake Paul vs Ben Askren in the States but the pay-per-view is more than double what it costs in the UK. Ouch. If you're a Brit who happens to be in the US this weekend, there's no need to pay $50. Simply use a VPN (opens in new tab) to access Fite.TV as without being blocked, as if you were back home in the UK. We recommend ExpressVPN (opens in new tab) because it comes with a 30-day money-back guarantee and 24/7 customer support. If you don't want to use Fite.TV (opens in new tab) to stream the event on via your computer or mobile device, you can order the Jake Paul vs Ben Askren through you local cable provider. The price is $50 and most providers - such as Xfinity (opens in new tab) - give you the option to watch in SD or HD resolution. Sean Wheelok, Ernesto Amador and Israel Vazquez will commentate, a little help from Snoop Dogg himself, plus SNL star Pete Davidson, supermodel Taylor Hill and TikTok stars Dixie and Charli D'Amelio. The action starts at 9pm ET / 6pm PT. Jake Paul vs Ben Askren undercard Jake Paul vs Ben Askren (expected around 4am UK / 11pm New York). Regis Prograis vs Ivan Redkach. Tonight, Triller is hosting its second huge boxing event, with internet celebrity Jake Paul once again stepping into the boxing ring to take on former UFC fighter Ben Askren. The entire show is serving up a total of seven boxing matches plus a ton of live musical performances. The fun kicks off at 9 PM ET, but you can read on to get an idea of when the main attraction is likely to pop off - and don't forget to buy the Paul vs. Askren pay-per-view on FITE.tv if you haven't already so you can stream it live. This Triller Fight Club event kicks off tonight at 9 PM, but with seven fights on the card happening alongside a bunch of live musical acts, we expect this packed show to last most of the night. Triller hasn't released any official schedule for it yet, however. Nonetheless, we can glean some details from the Mike Tyson vs. Roy Jones, Jr. exhibition that Triller and the Legends Only League hosted together last November. Related: The Tyson vs. Jones event lasted about three hours with five fights on the card (the bout between Jake Paul and Nate Robinson serving as the co-main event) and without the numerous musical acts we're looking forward to tonight. The pre-show entertainment started at 8 PM ET with the main card fights following at 9 PM. Jake Paul and Nate Robinson walked into the ring at around 11 PM, with the Tyson and Jones bout following at midnight. The main events on these fight cards happen toward the end of the show - they want to keep people glued to their seats, after all - so don't expect Jake Paul and Ben Askren to perform their ring-walks at 9 PM when the show begins. Since this is a longer event with more fighters and a ton of live "mini-concerts" planned, we don't think we'll get to see the Paul vs. Askren fight kick off until midnight at the earliest and possibly quite a bit later than that. Nonetheless, this is a pay-per-view event, and if you're going to shell out $50 for it, you're probably going to watch the whole thing. If you're looking to stream Jake Paul vs. Ben Askren online, you still have time to sign up for FITE.tv and buy the PPV package. Editors' Recommendations: Jake Paul is a perfect 2-0 as a professional boxer. But that record was achieved against a fellow YouTuber in AnEsonGib and a former NBA player in Nate Robinson. Can Paul notch a win over a legitimate fighter, though? The world is about to find out, as Paul will throw hands with retired mixed martial artist Ben Askren at the Mercedes-Benz Stadium in Atlanta and live on pay-per-view on Saturday night. After knocking out Gib and sleeping Robinson, turning the former three-time NBA Slam Dunk Contest champion into an instant meme for the ages, the 24-year-old Paul is super confident that he'll hammer the final nail in the fighting career of the 36-year-old Askren. "This is boxing versus MMA, and you're going to see the difference," Paul said during the fight press conference last month. "You're going to see the difference of a wanna-be fighter, a guy who choked in the Olympics, a guy who choked in the UFC, and now a guy who is going to choke against Jake Paul. I'm going to end this guy's career." Despite having emphatically lost back-to-back UFC fights - to Jorge Masvidal by flying knee in five seconds and being submitted by Demian Maia in 2019 - Askren vows that he won't be bullied by the YouTuber. Paul. Will Paul make Askren his latest viral hit, or will Askren show enough boxing ability to hand the young YouTuber his first pro loss? Here's everything you need to know about the Jake Paul vs. Ben Askren card. When is Paul vs. Askren? Date: Saturday, Apr. 17 Time: 9 p.m. ET/1 a.m. GMT. The Paul vs. Askren card launches Saturday, April 17 at 9 p.m. ET, which is 2 a.m. Sunday, April 18 in the UK. Main event ring walk times depend on how long the earlier bouts last. What stream is Paul vs. Askren? U.S.: Triller Fight Club U.K.: FITE TV. Triller will stream the event in the United States, while FITE TV will stream the event in the UK.
